MASTER IN VISUAL AND DIGITAL MEDIA

About IE
New thinking, new practice, and new media to meet the challenges of the 21st century.

IE School of Communication is a vibrant and challenging place where students can master the skills needed to think and act in an increasingly communication-based world. Communication lies at the very center of our lives, and if we are to really understand it, we must also understand how it interacts with other fields. It is in these interdisciplinary areas that innovation can emerge.

We train professionals who are able to deal with complex situations through a mix of conceptual, creative, and managerial skills, strong foundations in ethics and critical thinking, and a deep understanding of the contemporary world. Our students build up their international profile in an environment that encourages diversity, citizenship, teamwork and an entrepreneurial spirit.

Our programs integrate the following three dimensions:

• The conceptual. You will learn to think and act critically and strategically, from a deep understanding of the foundations of your profession.

• The creative. Through a hands-on teaching methodology, you will be placed in real-world situations that call on you to solve problems creatively, using the latest developments in the field.

• The managerial. Business is in IE’s DNA. You will learn how to manage projects, teams and businesses.

The Faculty at the School understands university as a place from which to positively influence society through the creation and communication of knowledge, in close partnership with the professionals and in dialogue with contemporary culture on all levels.

Being a student at IE University has many advantages: high-quality education, innovative programs, a diverse international faculty with a solid academic and professional profile, personalized academic advice, and a staff and management that are committed to enhancing your learning experience. - FINAL PROJECT
- PERIODS
The master program comprises courses in the CREATIVE and MANAGERIAL aspects of Visual and Digital Media. It offers practical and conceptually rigorous training in the theory and practice of these fields.

Creative courses foster the abilities needed to conceptualize, design and execute effective visual and digital communication strategies for a variety of purposes, settings, platforms, clients and audiences. Students will learn about the context, the language, and the trends in the field, from a reflective and critical perspective. Guided by experienced visual and digital media professionals and academics, students will deepen their theoretical, practical and strategic understanding of the creative process and will develop expertise in the use of industry-standard tools and techniques.

Managerial courses develop the skills needed to think and work flexibly, profitably and innovatively in the visual and digital media field as a growing sector of the new creative economy. They include training in strategic, entrepreneurial, organizational, marketing, and business management skills. Personal and career development workshops are also offered.

The Final Project is a team-based entrepreneurial creative project developed over the course of the entire program with the assistance of academics and professionals in the field. This is the integrative core of the Master’s experience.

In the first period, students are taught how to approach each stage of developing a creative project: from investigation, to ideation, to implementation. In the second period, students are assigned a consulting project in which they will work with a client to solve a real-world visual communication problem. Finally, the knowledge and skills acquired over the course of the program will be applied to an entrepreneurial creative project designed and executed entirely during the third period of the program.

What makes Madrid unique?

- Madrid is the capital of Spain and Europe’s fourth largest city. As the nation’s capital, Madrid is the epicenter of Spanish culture, business, and politics.
- IE’s campus is centrally located in the Salamanca neighborhood in the heart of the city.
- Spanish is the native language to 500 million people worldwide and the world’s second business language. You can learn it or improve for free your Spanish in IE, throughout extracurricular classes in our campus.
- As Madrid is strategically located in the center of Spain, it is the starting point of all the main highways and high speed train lines, connecting all major Spanish cities and international destinations. You can travel throughout your student year all around Europe, in short trips with affordable flight fares.
- Madrid is the foremost financial and industrial center of the country. It is home to Spain’s largest stock exchange, as it hosts most of the important national and international companies.
- Madrid’s geographical location gives it a priceless advantage: an excellent climate. Enjoy the weather, with a pleasant stroll on a sunny winter day, or sit down and enjoy the spring breeze in one of the many “Terrazas” (Spanish Cafés).
- Madrid is also very well known because it is a city that never sleeps, thanks to the thousands of shows, bars and discos that it has.
- Although Madrid is one of the top 5 cities in Europe, it is distinguished for offering affordable living expenses and good prices for social, cultural and gastronomical plans. “With less, you can do more” than in other many top destinations in Europe.
